

The Sword in the Stone

King

Uther

Pendragon

had a

son

named

Arthur.

It was not safe in England and so

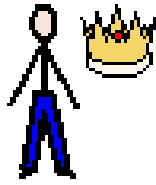

Arthur grew up in a secret place.

When

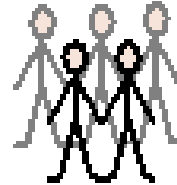

King

Other

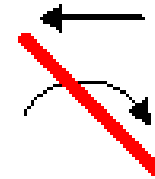

died

the people

did not know

who would be

next

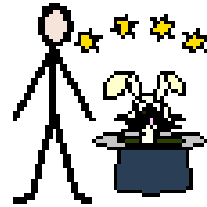

king.

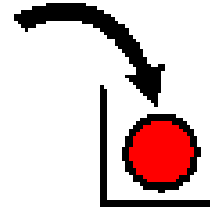

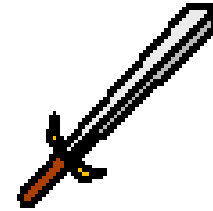

Merlin

the magician

put

a sword

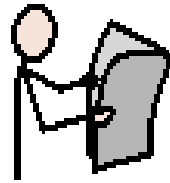

in stone.

A

plaque

read

that whoever

could remove

sword

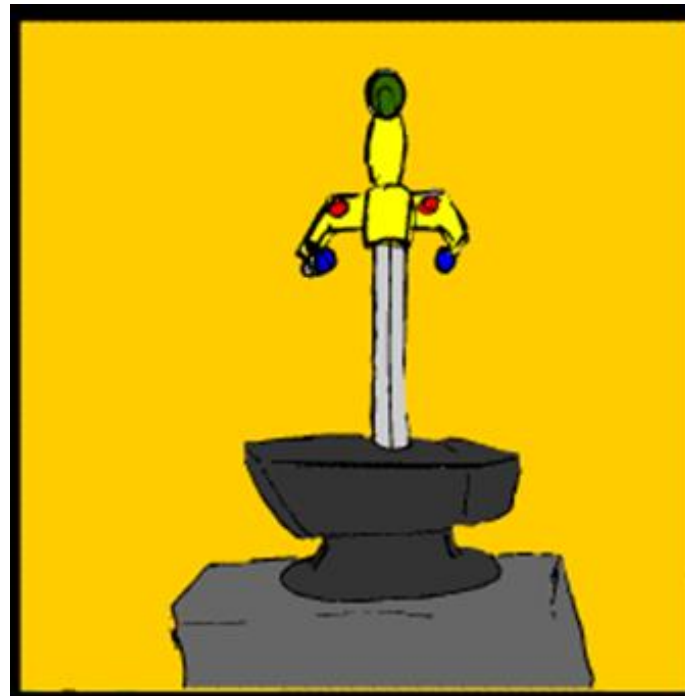

was

rightful

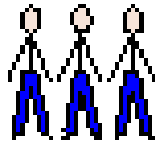

king.

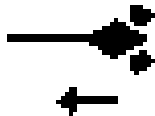

Lots

of

men

tried to pull

sword

stone.

They

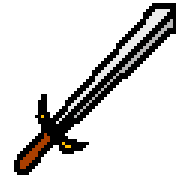

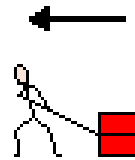

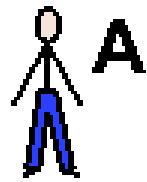

could not

remove

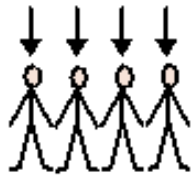

it.

Arthur pulled the sword out of the stone.

Everyone

was shocked

that Arthur

sword.

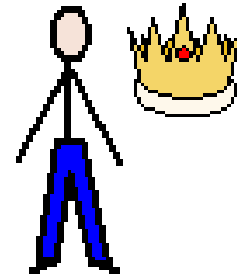

Arthur

crowned

king.
